RE: Yosemite Creek Superfund Site
EPA General Notice of Potential Liability

Dear Mr. Reiner:

On August 6, 2008, Exxon Mobil Corporation (ExxonMobil) received the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA's) General Notice of Potential Liability letter for the Yosemite Creek Superfund Site. In the Notice Letter, EPA identifies Exxon Company USA as a PRP because of Exxon's relationship to the Bay Area Drum (BAD) Site and the linkage between the contamination at BAD and the contamination at the Yosemite Creek Superfund Site.

ExxonMobil (for Exxon Company USA) has commenced a search for records related to the BAD Site. ExxonMobil will evaluate participation in the response actions at the Yosemite Creek Superfund Site after review of records. Please direct all future correspondence to ExxonMobil (for Exxon Company USA) on this matter to both myself and Mark Zuschek.
